Public Notification on Repair Works as Transmission Lines to National Grid Destroyed

Public Notification on Repair Works as Transmission Lines to National Grid Destroyed

As the so-called CRPH, NUG and PDF terrorist groups repeatedly committed bombing attacks to the power pylons and towers connecting from Biluchaung Hydropower Plant, the Ministry of Electricity and Energy released a public notification stating that the repair works are underway to recover the damaged towers as soon as possible, and the lower electricity production rate will be accordingly conducted during the periods of the high power consumption.

Public Notification

1. The Ministry of Electricity and Energy has released “Public request regarding the declining power generation capacity of large power plants in the national grid,” on 5 January 2022, requesting the public to understand the inconvenience of reducing the normal load capacity, which is about 1,470 megawatts, in some areas. The request also stated that the Ministry is working on new projects to meet the electricity demand as soon as possible.
2. Although about 540 megawatts can be generated from gas fired power plants as maintenance work on the Yadana Offshore project has already been completed, 230 kV Biluchaung (2) - Shwe Myo Power Line, which was destroyed for the fourth time on 3 January 2022, and the 230 kV Biluchaung (2) - Taungoo power line, which was destroyed for the fourth time on 18 December 2021, are being repaired under security. At 9:20 pm on 9 January 2022, 132 kV Biluchaung (2) - Tikyit Power Line was destroyed for the second time, and about 220 megawatts of electricity from Biluchaung Hydropower Plant could not be sent to the National Grid. In addition, due to rising gas prices, about 750 megawatts of LNG power plants have been shut down, for a total of about 970 megawatts, which will continue to be reduced and load balancing will have to continue.
3. Therefore, according to the load adjustment for the reduced power generation of about 970 MW, load reduction will continue between 07:00 am and 11:00 am and from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm, which is a time of high-power consumption. Press Release on Arrests of Terrorists near Mohso Village, Hpruso Township, Kayah State

A press release was issued that the terrorists and their affiliations are spreading fabricated news about the incident on social network pages to cause misunderstanding between Tatmadaw and local border guards as well as some organizations and the media and some individuals supporting violence are publishing news based on their own perspectives without understanding the truth. Continuously, the members of security forces are strictly following the Rules of Engagement (ROE).

Press Release

When a passenger plane from Myanmar National Airways landed at the airport in Loikaw, Kayah State, on 24 December 2021 morning, a combined group, comprising KNPP members and so-called PDF terrorists, shot with 107 mm rockets and fled after dashing into the wards by cars and using residential people as cover.

Soon after the incident occurred, security forces blocked and checked all the possible escape routes to capture assailants. Security forces discharging duties near Mohso village, Hpruso township, found a row of seven cars to travelling from Koi Ngan old village to Mohso village. When security members tried to stop the cars for investigation, the assailants fired small firearms at them and drove away. During the chase, security forces fired back at terrorists who fired heavy and small weapons at them from the hills located near Mohso village. During the shootout, security forces arrested some KNPP members and so-called PDF terrorists, and some recruits who were going to attend terrorism course dead. Seven cars that were carrying fuel, diesel and food extorted from villagers caught fire. News about the incident has already been released.

But, organizations and the media that advocate terrorism and some individuals were spreading fabricated news about the incident on social network pages to cause misunderstanding between Tatmadaw and local border guards. Hence, the Commander of Eastern Command, the director of Directorate of People's Militia and Border Guard Force and party looked into the matter together with officials of local border guard force.

According to the inquiry, when security forces conducting security measures near Mohso village tried to stop the seven suspicious cars rolling along the illegally built Demoso-Koi Ngan old village-Dawtkayahkhu-Mohso ground road, a shootout occurred when the assailants fired small arms without stopping their cars and terrorists taking positions in advance on the hills near Mohso village attacked with heavy and small weapons. During the shootout, the leading car that was carrying fuel caught in the crossfire and turned into a fireball when hit by small arm fire and bomb shells. Then, fire quickly spread to the remaining vehicles. Although security forces did their best to rescue the persons inside the burning cars amidst the whizzing bullets, they were not successful because of the size of fire and enemy fire. Continuously, the security members asked help from the nearest fire brigades but firemen count not come to the scene as their fire engines were destroyed by terrorists and their manpower dropped because of including CDM activities.

The public road from Demoso to Mohso village is via Demoso-Hpruso tar road. The incident reached the current condition as the terrorists covertly drove along the illegal Demoso-Koi Ngan old village-Dawtkayahkhu-Mohso ground road. It was found that while members of security forces and terrorists were engaging in a clash, residents from Mohso village asked for help from the Border Guard Post and four members of the Border Guard Post went to the place of clash wearing civilian clothes with small arms without reporting to responsible officials, that sounds of small arms were heard after the group left the post and the clash had already begun before the group left the post and that they, therefore, were likely to encounter with terrorists called the KNPP and the PDF and were killed by them before being tied their hands in their back to fabricate that they were tortured to death by security forces. It was also found that some organizations and the media and some individuals supporting violence repeatedly created doubts between the Tatmadaw and Border Guard Force on social media pages without understanding the truth. On the ground, security forces even tried to put out the fire in a timely manner but were unable to do so due to shootings of the KNPP and so-called PDF terrorists on the hills, leading to the deaths of the KNPP and so-called PDF terrorists and passengers on the vehicles.

It was also published in State-owned newspaper and on State-owned television channels that a fire incident involving the loss of a vehicle due to the explosion of gasoline and diesel took place in Tamwe township in Yangon region on 18 June 2021 when a homemade bomb of terrorists hit the fuel tank of the patrol car of security forces and the car caught fire, killing and injuring member of security forces on the car.

Looking into the two incidents, it can be seen that vehicles can be damaged if they are attacked with heavy weapons, small arms and homemade bombs while carrying combustible fuels and foodstuffs and that terrorists and individuals supporting them are fabricating news and posting incitements by taking advantages of such incidents to accuse that the Tatmadaw, security forces and border guard force are killing civilians. Moreover, some organizations, the media and individuals are publishing news based on their own perspectives without understanding the truth. It was revealed that terrorists called the KNPP and the PDF killed members of border guard forces and tied their hands in their back before setting them on fire after their vehicles were damaged by fire during the incident that took place near Mohso village to intentionally and purposefully create doubts.

Members of security forces strictly followed the Rules of Engagement (ROE) by giving priority to prevent collateral damage in accordance with international conventions and the public is urged to distinguish between right and wrong by analyzing fabricated and one-sided reports.

- Regarding the incident of seven damaged vehicle in fire that were spreading on social network, due to the shootout between security force members and terrorist groups, the leading car that was carrying fuel caught in the cross-fire and turned into a fireball when hit by small arm fire and bomb shells. Then, fire quickly spread to the remaining vehicles. Although security forces did their best to rescue the persons inside the burning cars amidst the whizzing bullets, they were not successful because of the size of fire and enemy fire.
 - Regarding the assassinations of four members of Border Guard Post, the residents from Mohso village asked for help from the Border Guard Post and four members of the Border Guard Post went to the place of clash wearing civilian clothes with small arms without reporting to responsible officials. During the clash, the four members were likely to encounter with the KNPP and so-called PDF terrorists and were killed by them before being tied their hands in their back to fabricate that they were tortured to death by security forces.
 - On the ground, security forces even tried to put out the fire in a timely manner but were unable to do so due to shootings of the KNPP and so-called PDF terrorists on the hills, leading to the deaths of the KNPP and so-called PDF terrorists and passengers on the vehicles.
 - It can be seen that vehicles can be damaged if they are attacked with heavy weapons, small arms and homemade bombs while carrying combustible fuels and foodstuffs and that terrorists and individuals supporting them are fabricating news and posting incitements by taking advantages of such incidents to accuse that the Tatmadaw, security forces and border guard force are killing civilians.
